

The following Prophecy was delivered by Pastor Mac Hammond on Sunday morning June 6, 2010.

The Lord would say to you this morning:

“You must be mindful for the day in which you live! You must interpret; you must understand the things that occur in your life on a daily basis in light of the day in which we live. Because even as there have been many things that would fall in the arena of disaster, some were man-made, some natural; many hard things happening in the world. Some of which seems to have encroached upon your life.

You must be mindful of the day in which you live! Because as this age draws to a close, these things will increase, to a point where men’s hearts fail them to the point of fear. The only way that you, even though you are my children and family, saith the Lord, the only way you will live unaffected by the events that are unfolding in the world which you live, is to be grounded in My Word and to live by faith!

There used to be, saith the Lord, some latitude spiritually. There used to be opportunities for people to make mistakes and grow more slowly than would be My will for them. But in this day, the encroachment of darkness, the things that are occurring as a part of the end of this age, require you to live by faith to a degree not required of other generations. So be aware as things you hear happening in the world around you begin to seem to have an impact on your life.

It is My plan, saith the Lord, that living by faith, you rise above these things in the world. Becoming a beacon of light to which they gravitate; a precursor to the harvest that will end this age. You must be mindful of the day in which you live! And as you live by faith, truly you will overcome, you will see My hand upon your life, and you will rejoice in the end of the age. Thus saith God!”
